

Dear Professor Low,

I hope this message finds you well. I'm in your class on 20th-century American literature and would like to request an extension for my current assignment. I'm struggling to complete the research task in time because I can't find all the needed resources for this paper. Unfortunately, while our library provides a myriad of resources, it does not have a couple of key books that, in my opinion, would greatly boost the quality of my paper.

In Particle, I'm searching for "Urban Underworlds: A Geography of Twentieth-Century American Literature and Culture" by Thomas Heise and "Fictitious Space in the Modernist and Post-modernist American Novel" by Carl Darryl Malmgren. If possible, I would also appreciate any guidance or recommendations you might have on where I might find these works or suitable alternatives.

I would like to reassure you that if you grant me this extension, I will ensure I give you a comprehensive and well-researched assignment for this date as soon as possible.

Feel free to contact me, and I look forward to receiving your reply.

Many thanks,

Cece Drake
